

Laser hair removal

...is a method that uses a laser to remove unwanted hair. During laser hair removal, a laser beam passes through the skin to the hair roots. The intense heat of the laser damages the hair follicle, which hinders future hair growth. Laser hair removal is most effective for people who have light skin and dark hair.

Although laser hair removal fully slows hair growth, it does not guarantee permanent hair removal. It typically takes multiple laser hair removal treatments to achieve an extended hair-free period. Yearly touch-ups may be needed as well. Prior to your laser hair removal procedure please refrain from:
